Pain Management in Persons with Cognitive Impairment - an Interprofessional Challenge

The conference is a joint undertaking of COST Action TD 1005 – “Pain Assessment in Patients with Impaired Cognition”, the international working group on pain and impaired cognition (PAIC) and sofi (Sozialwissenschaftliches Fortbildungsinstitut) at ehs Dresden.

Pain in persons with impaired cognition is still a tremendous challenge both in clinical practice and in research.

The key to good healthcare practice is sound research, an understanding for the patient's needs and wishes as well as effective interprofessional collaboration. This is why PAIC conferences bring together clinicians and researchers to discuss the latest developments and projects regarding pain in persons with cognitive impairment.

We would therefore like to invite you to Dresden, Germany, to join us for the 5th International Conference on Pain and Impaired Cognition. Topics span a broad range from research to clinical care and from patients with dementia to persons with other kinds of cognitive impairment.

Target groups

Nurses, Psychologists, Elderly Care Physicians, Neurologists, (Neuro-)Psychologists, Geriatricians, Physiotherapists, Pain Researchers and other health professionals and health researchers.
