Announcement of Ernst-Otto Czempiel Award 2018

The Peace Research Institute Frankfurt (PRIF) awards the best monograph in international peace research

The Peace Research Institute Frankfurt invites submissions for the Ernst-Otto Czempiel Award for peace research. The award, in honor of PRIF's former director, is endowed with 5,000 Euros and will be given for the best postdoctoral monograph published in the field of peace research in 2016 or 2017.

Book versions of Ph.D. theses and books by authors of the age of 45 or older at the date of publication are excluded.

Nominations and self-nominations are possible. Every nomination should contain the name, full address and e-mail address of the author and the title of the book. In the case of self-nomination, the application should in addition contain a CV, a list of publications, and a copy of the book (if possible electronically). The nomination deadline is May 13th, 2018.

The winner will be selected by a scientific jury. The award ceremony will take place this fall in Frankfurt/Germany.
