

Call for Posters
Conference on Crime and Punishment
Eastern and Western Perspectives on Recent and Fundamental Criminological Questions
- Heidelberg, March 4th to 6th, 2020 -

Dear Colleagues,

The Institute of Criminology of Heidelberg University and the Faculty of Applied Psychology – Legal Psychology of SRH Hochschule Heidelberg, cooperating with Polotsk State University, Republic of Belarus, will host an international criminological conference, titled “Crime and Punishment”, from March 4th to 6th, 2020.

The conference’s main goal is to connect the highly separated spheres of criminological research in Eastern and Western Europe by providing insights into research culture, research projects and their results. Furthermore, participants will have the opportunity for academic networking beyond the usual geographical scope.

We kindly invite interested researchers to participate in a poster session. The session provides an opportunity to present ongoing and early-stage work to an international audience and receive professional feedback.

A maximum of 20 posters will be accepted. The successful applicants will be exempted from the attendance fee. Please apply by sending a preliminary title of your poster and a short summary to crime.punishment@krimi.uni-heidelberg.de. Please notice: Application for posters ends on December 15th, 2019. Submitting authors have been informed of abstract acceptance/refusal by email on December 20th, 2019.

Posters on any criminological research project can be accepted. The main conference focuses on seven fields: Victimization within families and partnerships, sexual abuse in the Catholic Church, cybercrime, expert witness testimony, human rights, sanctions and measures and effects of punishment.

Conference-keynotes will be given by Prof. Dr. Hans-Jürgen Kerner (Institute of Criminology, University of Tübingen, Germany), Prof. Dr. Yakov Gilinskiy (Criminal Law Department at Russian State Pedagogical University of Herzen, St. Petersburg, Russia), Prof. Irina Vegeera, Ph.D. (Faculty of Law, Polotsk State University, Belarus), and Prof. Dr. Aliaksei Radziuk (Faculty of Law, Polotsk State University).

Guidelines for the Design and Presentation of Posters

Presentation Format:	One poster DIN A1 upright (841 x 594 mm)
Language:	English
Place of Presentation:	Foyer in the New University, the same room where the Welcome Reception and the Coffee Brakes take place
Personal Presentation:	March 4 th , 15:45 - 19:00 and on request
Duration of the Presentation:	March 4 th to March 6 th

Visit <https://www.jura.uni-heidelberg.de/krimi/Conference.html> for further information.

